MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1782.

SALEM, June 27.

LAST Monday arrived in a safe port, a prize ſchooner, laden with ſalt, taken by capt. Benſon, in the privateer ſhip Hendrick, of this port.

The day following, the privateer brig Portzile, from Bermuda, mounting 12 twelve pounders and 6 long ſix pounders, arrived alſo in a ſafe port. She was likewiſe captured by capt. Benſon, in the Hendrick, and had on board the crews of four veſſels, which ſhe had made prizes of. Her own crew, when taken, conſiſted of about 50 men. She is a new veſſel, being but four months off the ſtocks.

The Hendrick was left in chaſe of three veſſels, ſuppoſed to be a Bermudian privateer and her two prizes.

Yeſterday arrived in a ſafe port, the prize brig Olive Branch, of about 140 tons burthen, with a valuable cargo on board, conſiſting of ſugar, coffee, ſalt, and tobacco. She is a fine veſſel, is pierced for 16 guns, but mounts only four; and was captured on her paſſage from New-York to Quebec, by the privateer ſhip General Greene, capt. Crow, of this port.

BOSTON, July 1.

Yeſterday arrived the brig Union, capt. Gardner, in 35 days from Cadiz.

On the evening of the 15th of June, a party of tories from Canada, entered Newbury (Coheis) with a deſign to capture general Baily. They fired upon and wounded a ſentinel at the general's door, then ruſhed into the houſe, but the people were eſcaped. Not finding the general, and perceiving the inhabitants gathering to arms, they fled with precipitation, and in their retreat they found a ſon of the general's, whom they carried with them. Early next morning, paſſing through Corinth, they dragged ſeveral people out of their beds, whom they obliged to take an oath of neutrality till exchanged.

The letter of marque ſhip called the Alexander, on her outward bound paſſage, has taken a letter of marque brig of 14 guns and about 200 tons burthen, from Liverpool, England, bound to Newfoundland, and laden with ſalt and dry goods. She is arrived in this port. Nothing new by her.

SPRINGFIELD, (Maſſachuſetts) July 2.

We hear from Sheffield, that on Saturday the 22d they had a ſevere ſtorm of hail and rain, attended with thunder and lightning, which did conſiderable damage to the grain, broke a great number of windows, &c. The hail ſtones were, many of them, as large as a cricket ball; the lightning ſtruck a barn and tore it all to pieces. The next day they had another ſevere thunder ſtorm, when the lightning ſtruck the houſe of Mr. —— Fairchild, in ſuch a manner as to unroof in four directions. No perſon was hurt though a number of people were in the houſe.

We hear from Aſhewalet-Equivalent, in Berkſhire county, that on Sunday the 23d ult. about 12 o'clock, a violent hurricane pervaded that place, tearing up many trees by the roots, twiſting off others, which were ſome feet over, ſix or ſeven feet from the ground. It blew a large new two ſtory houſe 47 feet in length and 18 in breadth, the outſide nearly finiſhed, and a log-houſe 42 feet by 22, both belonging to major Jeremiah Cady, moved the houſe from the foundation, ſtripped the tan-houſe about 20 feet, and daſhed them all to pieces.

Extract of a letter from Claremont, in the ſtate of New-Hampſhire, dated June 24.

"The amazing horrors of yeſterday afternoon, almoſt ſurpaſs belief, and baffle all my powers of deſcription. About three o'clock in the afternoon, the wind from N. W. blew a moſt terrible hurricane; many trees were torn up by the roots, others twiſted off and ſtripped by the violence of the gale to an incredible diſtance, and whole fields of grain were ſwept entirely away.

"It ran in a vein of about half a mile in width, and exhibited as great a ſcene of deſolation and horror in miniature, as perhaps was ever exhibited in this part of the world. Every houſe, barn, or building of any kind, which ſtood in its range, was raſed to the foundation, or racked and torn in a terrible manner. Mr. Spencer's houſe was blown down; the very cellar torn up and twiſted like a withe: Mr. Spencer ſaved his little daughter, a child of ten years of age, in his arms, and attempted to make his eſcape with her; when he was buried in the ruins of his houſe, together with his wife, and the child killed in his arms: Mr. Spencer and his wife were dug out of the ruins after the ſtorm abated; he eſcaped himſelf with little hurt; his wife was terribly wounded, but it is hoped ſhe will recover."

By a perſon from the ſtate of Vermont we are informed, that on Sunday the 23d inſt. a terrible hurricane began in a place called Pawlet, in which place and Manchester it did great damage to the grain, buildings, &c. To the eaſtward of Manchester it ſeemed to divide into two veins; the one taking a ſouth-eaſt, the other a north-eaſtwardly direction. The ſouth-eaſt veiu paſſed through Weatherfield to Claremont, and there altered its courſe to Croydon (which was the furtheſt place from which our informant had heard) doing ſuch amazing deſtruction as to deſtroy the fruits of the earth, tear up, break off trees, and deſtroy buildings of every deſcription that ſtood within its range.

The north eaſt vein was a moſt terrible ſtorm of hail and rain, attended with an almoſt inceſſant peal of thunder, and flaſhes of lightning in ſuch quick ſucceſſion, that the whole hemiſphere appeared a tremendous glare of fire. The grain in its courſe was almoſt entirely deſtroyed; at Royalſtown the rain and hail fell in ſuch amazing quantities that the water was knee-deep in the houſes, many buildings were undermined and ruined; one houſe was thrown down and carried a conſiderable diſtance by the flood. Our informant ſays very credible people aſſured him, that ſome of the hail-ſtones meaſured ſix inches in length, and were ſufficient to weigh near a pound. The ſtorm paſſed to the eaſtward of Royalſtown, acroſs Connecticut river, but we have received no account from thoſe parts.

PROVIDENCE, June 29.

Tueſday laſt a flag of truce arrived in the river from New-York, and brought 24 Americans, late priſoners there.

We learn, that a privateer ſchooner, belonging to New-York, which accompanied the enemy's fleet into the eaſtern Sound, is taken by the brave major Dimeck, of Falmouth. The ſchooner had quitted the fleet to cruiſe in Boſton bay, where ſhe captured two veſſels from the Weſt-Indies, which were retaken by a letter of marque. The privateer afterwards cruiſed off Nantucket, of which major Dimeck being apprized, he embarked at Falmouth in a whaleboat, with 14 men, and landed at Nantucket, where quitting the whaleboat, he re-embarked with his crew in a ſmall wood-veſſel, boarded the ſchooner as ſhe lay at anchor off Nantucket bar, and carried her in a few minutes without loſs, although her crew conſiſted of 29 men. The captain of the privateer we hear is badly wounded.

NEW-HAVEN, June 27.

Monday night laſt the fort at Milford (whoſe garriſon was then but ſmall) was robbed of a ſmall quantity of proviſions and military ſtores, by ſome perſons from this ſide, who went off with the booty in a boat.

We hear that a few days ſince, four whaleboats under the direction of capt. [illegible], having taken poſſeſſion of two veſſels, in a harbour of Long-Iſland, and were bringing off their prizes, when two of the enemy's armed veſſels, ſhut them in, drove the boats on ſhore, and retook the veſſels; it is not known how many were taken priſoners; the boats crews conſiſted of about 30, but 9 only have returned.

FISH-KILL, July 11.

Laſt week, on Tueſday, his excellency general Waſhington, returned to his head-quarters, at Newburgh, from a viſit to the frontier poſts of this ſtate.

By authentic accounts the enemy are collecting and fortifying at Oſwego, from which place they will undoubtedly ſend parties to harraſs our frontiers. Their ſmall parties have done conſiderable damage already, beſides burning the houſe and mills at the falls, when they carried off about 12 or 15 priſoners. Laſt evening an expreſs arrived from Schoharie, bringing an account that there were about 300 of the enemy there; what the conſequence of this alarm will be, time will ſhew, though we have to expect continual alarms of this nature.

CHATHAM, July 10.

It is reported, and we believe may be relied on, that the enemy have evacuated Charles-town, and it is further reported, that they have burnt it. A few days will determine the truth of it.

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.

The aſſembly of the ſtate of Georgia, as an approbation of the great merit and good conduct of the gallant general Wayne, and in conſideration of the ſignal ſervices, which he has rendered that ſtate, during his command, has generouſly voted, that the ſum of four thouſand guineas be appropriated in purchaſing of an eſtate, for the ſaid general Wayne, in ſuch part or parts of the ſtate, as he ſhall appoint.

We are aſſured, that on Thurſday laſt ſe'ennight, intelligence was received at Fiſh-Kill from New-York, that, in conſequence of the proceedings had againſt Lippencut, a bloody contention had taken place in that city, between the Britiſh troops and a body of the refugees; that about 40 of the latter were killed and wounded, and the remainder was taken and confined on ſhipboard.

Extract of a letter from Elizabeth-town, dated July 9.

"Nothing official has yet tranſpired from the trial of Lippencut. From what I can learn, he has thrown the whole odium of the action upon Franklin, who (if Sir Guy Carleton is capable of doing juſtice) will meet that puniſhment which his complicated crimes deſerve."

July 16. On Sunday the 7th inſt. a party of the refugee horſe-thieves, in the neighbourhood of Fiſh Kill, in the moſt barbarous and cruel manner, murdered a woman, whom they ſuſpected had given information of their being out from New-York, on the horſe-ſtealing buſineſs. The method theſe ſavage monſters adopted to deprive this helpleſs female of life, for her fidelity to her neighbours, caſts the darkeſt ſhade on human nature; and places man in a more inferior ſtation than the moſt ferocious tyger of the wilderneſs.

Another party of the ſame infernals, about the middle of laſt week, perpetrated a ſimilar deed on an induſtrious farmer, near Cromponds, ſtate of New-York. He had all day been mowing in his field, but had returned to his houſe, and was partaking of ſome homeable fare which his faithful wife had prepared. In this happy interval of reſt, domeſtic peace and enjoyment, the murderers appeared at his door; he attempted to eſcape by running towards an oppoſite door, but they ordered him to ſurrender, or they would fire at him; and in the confidence that they would not offer him any violence, he returned, but ſhocking to relate, was inſtantly ſhot by one of the villains, who ſuppoſing him not to be dead, dragged him with the aſſiſtance of the others out of the houſe, and battered his head to pieces with the butts of their muſkets.

Let it be remembered, that theſe horrid enormities have been committed by people, who have come out from the enemy's lines, ſince the commencement of Sir Guy Carleton's conciliatory adminiſtration.

Compare dates, and it will be alſo found that, at the very time general Leſlie propoſed to general Greene a ceſſation of hoſtilities, an attempt was made by general Clark to ſurpriſe general Wayne.

The anniverſary of the ever memorable 4th of July, 1776, was celebrated, the 4th inſtant at Lancaſter, in a manner that not only reflects great honour on the inhabitants of that county, but exhibits an example worthy of future imitation, by all her ſiſter counties in this commonwealth.

On the 2d inſtant, in New-York bay, captains Hyler and Story, with two whaleboats boarded and took the ſchooner Skip Jack, mounting ſix carriage guns, beſides ſwivels, but ſoon after burnt her, finding they could not get her off, it being at noon, in ſight of the guard ſhip, and ſeveral other ſhips of war lying at Sandy-Hook. This ſchooner was tender to the admiral's ſhip. Hyler brought off the captain and 9 or 10 hands, the others having eſcaped in their boats on the approach of the whaleboats.

Capt. Hyler, about the ſame time, took three other ſmall veſſels, which were on the trading ſcheme, one of them being loaded with calves, ſheep, &c. bound from New-Jerſey to New-York.

Capt. Hambright, of Lancaſter, was, on Saturday laſt, unfortunately thrown from his horſe, and ſo prodigiouſly bruiſed, that he expired in a few hours after. This gentleman acquired great reputation as a provincial officer in the late war; and taking a deciſive part in the preſent revolution, was choſen member of council for this commonwealth. In which honourable ſtation he diſcharged his duty to the ſatisfaction of his conſtituents. His death is exceedingly regretted by all his relatives and acquaintance; but they draw the greateſt conſolation from the reflection that he was deſervedly eſteemed, by all ranks of people, an honeſt man.

An ORDINANCE for the better diſtribution of prizes in certain caſes.

BE it ordained by the United States in Congreſs aſſembled, that ſo much of the ordinance, entitled, "An ordinance, aſcertaining what captures on water ſhall be lawful," as ordains, that upon the capture of a veſſel commiſſioned as a man of war or a privateer, by any of the veſſels of war of the United States of America, the whole of the property condemned ſhall be adjudged to the captors, be and the ſame is hereby repealed; and that in all ſuch caſes of capture the whole of the property condemned ſhall be adjudged to the uſe of the captors, if the veſſel taken ſhall be of equal or ſuperior force to the veſſel making the capture; if otherwiſe, one half only ſhall be adjudged to the captors, and the other half to the uſe of the United States, and ſhall, after condemnation, be ſo appropriated; unleſs the United States in Congreſs aſſembled, in reward of diſtinguiſhed valour and exertion, ſhall otherwiſe ſpecially direct.

And be it further ordained by the authority aforeſaid, that the reſolution of the 15th day of November, 1776, giving to the commanders, officers and men of ſhips or veſſels of war, a bounty for every cannon and for every man belonging to Britiſh ſhips or veſſels of war captured by them, be and the ſame is hereby repealed.

Done by the United States in Congreſs aſſembled, the 10th day of July, in the year of our Lord, 1782, and in the ſeventh year of our independence.

Atteſt. JOHN HANSON, preſident.
CHARLES THOMSON, ſecretary.

RICHMOND, July 15.

It is reported that the Indians have lately defeated col. Crawford, who marched to deſtroy ſome of their towns. The account is not yet authenticated, but comes with ſome circumſtances of particularity, that give it the appearance of probability.

Four of the flag veſſels below, we hear, have been ſeized and will probably be condemned, for bringing in with them and endeavouring ſecretly to diſpoſe of conſiderable quantities of Britiſh goods.

It is ſaid, but we hope without foundation, that admiral Barrington had fallen in with a number of French tranſports in the European ſeas, and taken the greateſt part of them. Probably this account will turn out like admiral Kempenfelt's taking and deſtroying ſeventy-two ſail of French men of war ſome weeks ago, which ſeems to be acknowledged on all hands to be at leaſt premature!

Some barges lately made their appearance in Rocky river, near Hampton, but apprehenſive of an unfriendly reception from a party of ſtate cavalry ſtationed in the neighbourhood, they did not chuſe to land.

ANNAPOLIS, July 25.

A Philadelphia paper of the 20th inst. contains the following intelligence:

HAGUE, April 21. Extract from the regiſter of their High Mightineſſes the States General of the United Provinces, dated Friday the 19th of April.

"Having reſumed the deliberation upon the firſt and ſecond addreſs of Mr. Adams, the former preſented to the preſident of the aſſembly of their High Mightineſſes on the 4th of May, 1781, and the latter on the 9th of January laſt, requeſting them in the name of the United States of North-America, to permit the ſaid Mr. Adams to deliver his credentials to their High Mightineſſes; and further, in his laſt addreſs, requeſting a categorical anſwer on that ſubject:

Signed, W. BOREEL,
And underneath, W. FAGEL."

Mr. Adams has had a viſit from the French ambaſſador, with whom he held a conference of two hours.

April 25. Mr. Adams, envoy from the United States of North-America, hath had a conference with the principal members of the government, and with the prince ſtadtholder. He was this day in conference with their High Mightineſſes; he was received and accompanied by the baron de Brantzenbourg, on the part of the province of Utrecht, and by M. C. Bigot on that of Frieſland. The duc de la Vanguyon, the French ambaſſador, gave the day before yeſterday a ſumptuous dinner to Mr. Adams, and all the foreign miniſters reſiding here. We are aſſured that a treaty of commerce between our republic and the United States of North-America, will immediately take place.
